SUSPENSION FOR A LARGE ROUND BALER

Abstract of the Disclosure

A large round baler includes a pair of ground wheels carried at opposite ends of an axle which is suspended from the frame of the baler by a pair of parallel, transversely spaced arms having first ends secured to the axle, and having second ends coupled to the frame by a self-aligning bearing assembly.